New York, who disappeared in December after making an affidarit, on the strength of which William H. Kennedy, of No. 220 Multi svenue, an exclerk in Post Office sub-station No. 2, at North Moore and Hudson streets, was charged with falsity ling money order accounts, was arrested by Post Office Luspectors James and Hartshorn in Buffato on Saturday morndug. ngent. It was in the trial of this set that the dis-losures were made which resulted in the forced retirement of Hosy and Spooner front the Adams Express Company and the subsequent suits against them for restitution.

The Adams Express Company acquired half reterest in the New York and Boston Di patch; Kinsley and Union Express Companyes, for 8350,000 from Tatt, and Sherburne, the profit to them being $270,000.

The Post Office Inspectors returned to the city Monday, but they did not have Miss Whisarty, for the reason that she is lying at a friend's holisein Buffalo, suffering from a badly sprained ankle.

Until last Nevember Miss Whearty had charge of sub station No. 21, which is located in Bis. Caskey's drug store at North Moore and Hudson, atrosts. The druggist's wite succeeded Miss Whearty in the charge of the sub station, and it was discovered that Miss Whearty's accounts were $590.07 short. Mes Whearty said that when she succeeded Kennedy he instructed her to hold back that amount of money orders each day.

This led to Kennedy's arrest un December M. His examination was to have taken place two days later and when the case was called Miss Whearty was missing. Of this profit Spooner and Hoey received $138,300.

Then it was agreed between the four that they should purchase the other half interest in the companies and give the Adams Express Company the option of purchasing it. This half interest was procured for $80,000 and sold to the Adams Express Company for $500,000.

It had been agreed between the four that the profits should be divided equally. Sherburne went to Kurope, making, Tatt trustee of his interest. He received $100,000 of the profits and claims that hely was entitled to $187,500. Sherburne claimed that the details of the sale were kept from him and charged Hoey with breach of trust.
